Dibrelle to buy Dutch Tabak

By Charles Batchelor in Amsterdam

DIBRELLE Brothers of Danville, Virginia, is to acquire the Dutch tobacco trading company, Tabak Export and Import Compagnie (TEIC), for about $25m, the two companies have announced.

The U.S. group will pay cash for TEIC – owned by Tabacofina, the Belgian arm of Rothmans International – in a deal which should be completed by the end of August.

TEIC, which made a net profit equivalent to $4.7m on sales of $44m in the year to March, employs 22 people in its Amsterdam headquarters. It also has large interests in Brazil.
